Crossrail works to build a new station at Liverpool Street requires a section of Liverpool Street between Blomfield Street and Old Broad Street to close from 18 June 2011 until project completion in 2018.

Initially the road closure is required for the archaeological investigations in the area. Following completion of these works, the road will remain closed for utilities diversions in advance of the construction of the Broadgate ticket hall starting in 2013.

The area will be hoarded as shown on the enclosed diagram. We will maintain pedestrian access and access to properties on both sides of Liverpool Street throughout these works.

Some minor street works will be carried out to alter the kerb lines on the eastern side of the junction of Liverpool Street and Old Broad Street, in front of the London Underground ticket hall, also shown on the diagram.

In order to maintain bus departures from Liverpool Street bus station, the section of Old Broad Street between London Wall and the bus station will be closed to all traffic except for buses, cycles, traffic servicing local businesses and Crossrail construction traffic.

Access into the eastern end of Liverpool Street, from Old Broad Street, will be restricted to local servicing traffic, cycles and Crossrail construction vehicles and will be controlled by marshals between 07.00 and 19.00.

We have carried out surveys of local businesses to understand delivery needs. However, if you have any concerns about servicing access during these works, please contact the Crossrail Helpdesk.

A taxi rank will be maintained at the eastern end of Liverpool Street, with access from Bishopsgate only. Taxis are also available to hire within Liverpool Street mainline station adjacent to platform 10.

Bus diversions will be in place as shown on the enclosed diagram. For up-to-date travel information please visit the Transport for London website: www.tfl.gov.uk/livetravelnews.

We apologise in advance for any inconvenience caused as a result of our works. If you have any queries, please contact the Crossrail 24-hour public helpdesk.
